Thursday 2 February 2023

Bishop Martin has raised concerns in the House of Lords about vulnerable families suffering from fuel poverty - and says that Suffolk families are having to choose between heating or eating as he presses the Government to do more to help those in need. Speaking as a member of the House of Lords, Bishop Martin highlighted concerns that vulnerable families may not be able to access information about where they can get help and support with paying fuel bills. Bishop Martin raised these concerns during questions in the House of Lords on Tuesday 31 January about helping vulnerable households with energy costs and the role of Ofgem in delivering affordable energy.

Bishop Martin told peers he was voicing concerns raised by clergy and churches in Suffolk who are at the front line of helping people in Suffolk. He said, "one of the biggest challenges that vulnerable households are facing as they try to pay their energy bills is accessing information, particularly when it is available only online."

Bishop Martin asked for assurances from the Government that information should be available in different ways, not just online, because those needing help with bills often have limited or no online access. He further asked the Government to consider partnering with other service providers such as foodbanks to ensure those who needed help with fuel costs could easily access the information they needed. Afterwards Bishop Martin added: "when we know families in Suffolk have to choose between heating or eating, we need to do all we can to make sure those who are struggling with fuel bills get all the support they can."

Contactless giving rolled out across Suffolk

Contactless donation devices have been installed in another 39 churches across Suffolk after a hugely successful national pilot scheme last year.

A total of 30 Suffolk churches were given donation devices from September 2021 as part of the pilot, giving people in their communities the opportunity to donate using a card rather than cash. The scheme was a big success in the county, raising more than £34,000 in its first year alone. On top of this, a further £8,800 was given through QR codes and online giving. This meant churches raised an average of more than £1,400 each from their community's generosity as part of the national pilot.

Julie Podd, Parish Resources Manager at the Diocese of St Edmundsbury and Ipswich, said: "We are delighted the donation devices have been so popular – it's nice to be able to help our parishes and give people flexibility if they decide to make a contribution to our wonderful churches. Many people now don't carry cash, as contactless payments have become so popular. This has been a fantastic way to provide an easy and convenient way for people to donate and shows how much people value their churches. We are hugely thankful and appreciative of every donation made. The money helps fund a range of community projects and ministry as well as maintaining our beautiful church buildings."

A focus on Ministry

Dear friends,

It has been such a joy to be working as our Diocesan Director of Ordinands (DDO) for the last 18 months. It's been a privilege to meet people from so many different backgrounds, ages, traditions and contexts to explore with them what it is that God might be calling them to in his church. In the next few editions of eNews we are going to put some ministries in the spotlight, I hope that you enjoy reading the stories of these people as they have sought to follow God's call on their life.

If you would like a chat about your vocation journey please do email me. Or perhaps you could chat with one of our newly appointed Vocations Champions, to find one, please click here. I would also be really glad to come and talk with incumbents and PCCs about how we can encourage and support vocations in our parishes, benefices and deaneries, again do email me. In the meantime here are a few reminders for you:

- The Church of England celebrates Vocation Sunday on 30 April this year.
- If you have responsibility for planning or leading services, please do look at our Vocations Sunday Padlet. On the Padlet you'll find a Communion service, Service of the Word, Intercessions as well as some suggestions for homilies.

- The Cathedral is hosting our Vocations Fair again this on Saturday 29 April from 10.00am – 1.00pm. Please do come and have a look around our stalls and have a chat with the people there. Why not come with a group from church and then have lunch at the Pilgrims' kitchen café ?
- I'm going to be running a SHAPE course on Zoom in the weeks following Vocation Sunday. This is a six-session course designed to help consider how God is calling us and gifting us for ministry. Registration details will follow as soon as available.

With every blessing, The Revd Stuart Batten. DDO

Elders Ministry

We are delighted that Archdeacon Jeanette went to Alde Sandlings benefice on Sunday 8 January and commissioned and recommissioned 12 Lay Elders. The wonderful benefice service welcomed them and celebrated their ministry. Recommissioned Elders included Fran Smith, Julian Worster, Ros Macallister, Tim Haxell, Susan Henderson and Mo Blackburn. While, Sheila Brechin, Jill Brown, Jenny Digby, David Gordon, Catherine Palmer and Marie Szpak were commissioned for the first time.

All 12 come from the four churches in the benefice. The benefice was recently in vacancy and when the Revd Sarah du Boulay arrived, she noticed and discerned their calling early on. Sarah said, "some people had been working well together during the vacancy and some people were already attending a Wednesday morning prayer gathering, others I contacted directly. I noticed their calling very early on in my own ministry here – they are so obviously on fire for God!"

The group did some interactive and theologically based training together, looking at our own faith, how we sustain ourselves, our ministry going forward, the practicalities of being an Elder, and of course, Safeguarding. The age range of the Elders is between those in their 50s and one in their 90s - just showing it's never too late! Some will have a pastoral role and others are liturgical Elders. Sarah says "Having 12 Elders is a huge blessing to our benefice. It enables us to do more, both in the churches and in our communities. Each person brings a wealth of experience and their own gifts to the role. It is wonderful to be able to honour and celebrate the role that lay people have in spreading the Good News of the gospel".

Jenny Digby. Newly commissioned Lay Elder at St Peter and St Paul's church, Aldeburgh says

"Six years ago I was enjoying my recently retired life when out of the blue, my eldest son Lee, who was just 42, was diagnosed with cancer. I was not a churchgoer but Julian

Worcester, a Lay Elder who was also a Town Councillor at the time, asked if I would like him to add Lee's name onto the Prayer List at church for 'Those Who Are Sick' and Lee's name would be mentioned each day in prayer.

When I found myself in this dire situation, I turned to God, like I'm sure so many other people do. So I decided I would attend Morning Prayer each Wednesday and pray for Lee myself. Sadly, Lee passed away last January 2022 after five years living his best life with his lovely wife Michelle. I gradually became a little more involved with the church and when asked if I would like to train to be a Lay Elder, I decided it was the best way I could give something back. I now lead Morning Prayer two mornings each week, and I've started writing articles on a regular basis in the Benefice Newsletter called, 'Meet The People, Our Unsung Heroes'. My life has changed in more ways than one. Being involved and making a difference is the perfect place to be when you are grieving". Full story here.

Chaplains needed!

The Cathedral welcomes over 75,000 visitors a year and an important part of the visitor ministry is the team of chaplains. They form a quiet presence, on hand to speak to visitors, particularly those in need and to offer public prayers at 12.00pm and 3.00pm. Chaplains are usually on duty daily (except Sundays) from about 10.30am to 3.30pm between March and November. The Cathedral offers a lunch voucher and a car parking space to its visitor chaplains. If you would like to get involved (ordained or lay chaplains are welcome), and could spare a day a month, we would be pleased to hear from you. Please email sarahfriswell@stedscathedral.org to find out more.

2023 Bishops' Lent Appeal for Kagera

Lent Challenge booklets are flying off the shelf. Have you ordered yours yet? One churchwarden told us that they had so much fun doing the last challenges at her own church that she's suggested it to all those in her group of churches - 150 booklets have gone to them. Another home group has ordered 25 because they enjoyed using it as a basis for discussion during Lent in previous years and want to do it again. And we are really happy that some other churches have come on board for the first time this year. Do order yours now! We also have plenty of posters and bookmarks if you'd like those as well.
