Bishop Martin's Coronation Message

The Coronation of King Charles III is a celebration of hope for the future.

The ceremony, rituals and pageant are declarations of intent for the future, and so expressions, very clear expressions, of hope. And with the Prince of Wales and Prince George, the Coronation takes place with two generations of heirs – so with a perspective even farther into the future. I think it is important for us to recognise just how profound and significant this expression of hope is, and how important it is for us as a nation. For me it is profound and significant because of the way in which the monarchy shapes us and provides a thread of continuity and trust in our lives. I know not everyone agrees, but it is hard to dispute that our identity as a people is tied up with being a monarchy, indeed, a constitutional monarchy.

As I looked through the various artefacts that are used at the Coronation, I was struck by three values that are held in them and which seem to me to be particularly apposite for today.

The first was that of mercy. There are four swords used in the service, the Sword of State, dating from the Coronation of Charles II; the Sword of Temporal Justice; the Sword of Spiritual Justice and the Sword of Mercy, all dating from the Coronation of Charles I. The Sword of Mercy has a blunted tip, symbolising the sovereign's mercy. The same value is embodied in the Sovereign's Sceptre with Dove, known as the Rod of Equity and Mercy, and symbolises the monarch's spiritual role. In our world today, mercy, compassion and kindness seem particularly valuable qualities for our King, not just to embody himself, but to encourage us all to demonstrate.

Secondly, the sacred ceremony of anointing holds amongst other profound values the commitment to service. King Charles and the Queen Consort will both be anointed with oil of chrism, oil pressed from olives from the Mount of Olives, and blessed by the Patriarch of Jerusalem and the Anglican Archbishop of Jerusalem.

Oil of chrism is also used in anointing those baptised, and those ordained to be priests. It is an ancient mark of designating a person for a whole-hearted life of service. Once again, this is a quality we both see in the King, and know we all need in our world today.

Thirdly, the orb depicts the world, and a sense of the embrace of the whole world in its diversity and complexity. That recognition of a wide embrace, an inclusive view of the world, is reflected in the ecumenical consecration of the oil of chrism. It is also clear in the unprecedented gift of Pope Francis to the King of fragments of the true cross, now incorporated into the Cross of Wales that will precede the King's procession at the Coronation service. This wide embrace and inclusive perspective is further seen in the involvement of people from other faiths in the service.

These three values evident during the royal Coronation will sustain us into the future, and upon which we can build our own hopes for the future: mercy, service, and the wide embrace of all people in our shared world.

St Edmundsbury Cathedral will host the County Service to celebrate the Coronation of His Majesty King Charles III and Queen Camilla.

The service at St Edmundsbury Cathedral, open to everyone to attend, will begin at 10.00am on Sunday 7 May and will include prayers and music reflecting the Coronation Service the day before at Westminster Abbey. The Leiston Royal British Legion Band will play a Fanfare to mark the start of the service, which will include a procession including civic leaders, judges, the Lord Lieutenant of Suffolk, and Suffolk's High Sheriff, Mark Pendlington. Catching the Fire

Sunday 21 May, 12.00pm - 4.00pm

Join this Lightwave community event, part of Thy Kingdom Come (10 days of prayer starting Thursday 18 May) and the Big Suffolk Prayer Walk (19-21 May). This year the theme is 'Celebrating God's Spirit at Work' and we are coming together to worship, eat together and prayer walk. Please bring your own picnic and invite your friends. Enjoy the grounds and art displays. You can also participate in the prayer walk facilitated by Lightwave and discover craft activities for all the family. Bishop Mike, Archdeacon Sally and many others from rural churches will lead worship for all ages. Story, song and breaking bread in a breath-taking outdoor setting.

- Enjoy tea, cake and more in the banqueting barn at 2.30pm
- Worship and celebration of mission in Suffolk at 3.00pm

Car parking is available on site. You are welcome to just turn up - but it would greatly help our planning if you would sign up for this event here.

Big Suffolk Prayer Walk

19-21 May 2023

Hosted by Suffolk in Prayer and Ipswich in Prayer to encourage people all across our county to unite together in times of prayer. You can follow local routes and maps, or very simply pray as you do your daily walk or pop to the shops. We believe that just praying for five minutes as you walk or cycle around your local area will have incredible impact. Those less mobile are encouraged to join in at home, praying over maps or photographs of their local area. More information can be found at www.suffolkinprayer.uk where you can let us know what you'll be up to, or you can email suffolkinprayer@gmail.com

Suffolk Saints Pilgrimages

8-10 May 2023, 3-7 July 2023

Two Suffolk Saints Pilgrimage opportunities are planned for this summer! The team at the Cathedral have been working on two routes across our beautiful county to link three of 'our' saints: Felix, Botolph and Edmund. A three-day pilgrimage from 8-10 May, and a five-day pilgrimage from 3-7 July, ending at the Cathedral with Choral Evensong. Full programme here. For more information, visit: www.stedscathedral.org/pilgrimage.

A Quiet Day with The Revd Dr Charlie Bell

Friday 16 June 10.00am - 3.30pm
The Barn, The Rookery, Hollesley Road, Eyke IP12 2RR

Charlie is well known to some of us from his time working at the West Suffolk Hospital. He is curate of St John the Divine, Kennington as well as a national Board member of AffCath. Charlie Bell is an Academic Clinical Fellow in Psychiatry at South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust and King's College London. He is also the John Marks Fellow, College Lecturer and Director of Studies in Medicine at Girton College Cambridge. His book, 'His Queer Holiness', was published last year by Darton, Longman and Todd. Join this meeting from the diocesan group of the Society of Catholic Priests. Please bring food to share at lunch-time - drinks will be provided. Participants are welcome to stroll in the delightful gardens. Booking via Michael Wilde 01284 767415 or cormack246@gmail.com. A £10 donation would be appreciated.

John's Gospel with Prof David Ford

Saturday 17 June, 9.30am to 12.30pm
Salvation Army, Violet Hill Road, Stowmarket IP14 1NE

Prof David Ford will lead the Bishops' Study morning looking at John's gospel. Prof Ford is Regius Professor of Divinity Emeritus in the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of Selwyn College. He has studied John's Gospel for most of his academic life and the fruits of that study are distilled in his recently published theological commentary on John's Gospel, which has been widely acclaimed and the bishops can attest is a wonderful inspiration for sermon ideas! Come along and be inspired, illuminated and enthused as Prof Ford unfolds this the most multi-layered of gospels for sermon ideas!

Click here to book (please book early to avoid disappointment!) This event is free of charge, enquiries to Lesley Steed: lesley.steed@cofesuffolk.org. The series of Bishops' teaching mornings will continue in 2023, the next provisional date is 25 November.

Further details will be available on reducing your church costs, access Church Grants, Gifts in Wills and starting a Friends' Group. To book please email Yalda.davis@cofesuffolk.org, stating your name, parish role and parish.

Notices

Christian Aid Week 14 – 20 May: This year Christian Aid is holding the 'Big Pea challenge' and there are lots of fun fundraising activities on their website here. Richard Stainer, Diocesan World Mission Officer, says "I have seen the difference Christian Aid is making to lives in Southern Ethiopia as they combat the effects of the climate crisis. In some villages they have helped to install water pumps, in others they have helped finance the building of barns or the making of irrigation systems. Your support of Christian Aid enables these things to happen". As an individual, as a family or as a church why not have some fun raising money for Christian Aid and changes lives for the better across the world?

Message from the World Mission Group: On Wednesday 10 May (this coming Wednesday) the Government will bring forward the second reading of the Illegal Migration Bill to the House of Commons. It is not too late to let your local MP know how you feel about this bill. We would like to bring to your attention, a letter from Suffolk Refugee Support. available to read here - perhaps you could use it as a template for a letter to your local MP.

Energy Basket: Those currently signed up to the Energy Basket have been contacted about the current basket which expires on 30 September 2023. The April deadline has now been extended to the end of May for replies. Further information is available here with FAQs here. For help on energy enquiries: energy@parishbuying.org.uk or call 0800 368 0887.
