THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND SUFFOLK | The Faraday Institute for Science and Religion | Faraday Kids Science and Religion | Faraday Teens Science and Religion | Faraday Educators Science and Religion Resources for Kids & Teens

Big World, Big Questions

Suitable for RE and Science Primary school leads, this interactive training will provide you with everything you need to run a Science and RE themed day in your school.

The theme day will draw on different scientific and religious worldviews. Awe and wonder in creation will be explored by examining minibeasts and the night sky, and pupils will also learn about different responses to climate change as well as considering spending priorities for scientists.

Join us on

Tuesday 24 November,
9:15am-12:15pm,
at Coddenham
Community Centre

LINKS TO SIAMS FRAMEWORK

In what ways does the theologically rooted Christian vision shape the curriculum?

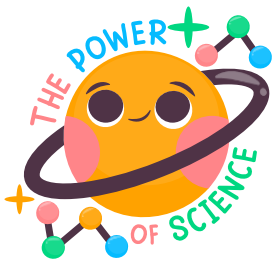

To book a place, email:

Jacqui.Studd@cofesuffolk.org

Led by Cathy Priest

Cathy taught Science for 20 years in the UK and abroad. She is the training lead at the Faraday Institute, helping teachers to integrate Science and Religion within the school curriculum.

Big World, Big Questions

Arrival from 9am

9:15am - Welcome and Introductions

9.20am - Research activity: Considering your views on how different subjects interact 9.35am - Big Questions in the Classroom: A presentation and discussion on why and how to integrate Science and Religion.

10.10am - Getting Practical: Activities for engaging students during a science and religion themed day, with a chance to do some hands-on science

10.30am - Science and Religion: A presentation and discussion on developing awe and wonder in the classroom, climate change and how to prioritise spending in science.

11.00am - Coffee Break

11.20am Getting Practical: continued

11.40am - Science and Religion for the whole school: An opportunity to reflect school wide on integration between science and religion

12:00pm - Time for reflections and chance to ask questions about planning your theme day

12.15pm - Finish